1. Arrangements were being made about 25 November for all non-Communist parties in Communist China to meet in Peiping later in the month. The parties concerned include the Kuomintang Revolutionary Committee, the China Democratic League, the Democracy Promotion Association, Democratic Nationals Reconstruction League, the Farmers and Workers Democratic Party and the September 3 Club (sic).
2. The meetings are sponsored by the United Front Department of the Chinese Communist Party so as to strengthen the organization of, and purge wavering elements from, the non-Communist parties, and to rally support for the anti-American campaign now being carried on by the Communists in their effort to aid Korea.

Comment. The non-Communists have been uneasy since the outbreak of the Korean War, which uneasiness has been intensified since the Chinese have intervened. They feel that if a world war breaks out the Chinese under the Communist Government will not be strong enough to assure victory. Leaders of non-Communist parties who elected to support the Communist regime particularly feel the threat to their personal security, and their conviction is wavering. Fearing trouble in this quarter the United Front Department has suggested the calling of these meetings.
